The character of a Man's Clothes always has a wonderful effect on his peace of mind.

To the Man inside of comfortable, perfect fitting clothes the world looks bright and he is at peace.

To the Man inside of ill-fitting, poorly-made clothes the world looks disgruntled and he knows no peace.

We have no disappointments in store for the Men we clothe—and there's not a "sting" in a garment we sell.

TO TEST HIGH EXPLOSIVE

MONITOR PURITAN TO UNDERGO SEVERE TRIAL TODAY.

Explosive Gelatine Will be Tried on a Heavy Armored Turret.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The details of the high explosive test to which the armor of the monitor Puritan will be subjected in Hampton Roads on tomorrow have been made public by Acting Secretary Whitson. The experiment will determine the effect of explosive gelatine in an uncounted charge on the heavy turret armor of a war vessel.

The test was provided for by Congress in the naval appropriation bill for the current year.

The test of explosive gelatine will be made on the armor of the turret, the charge being ignited by an electrical arrangement from the forward part of the vessel. At least 200 pounds of the gelatine will be exploded.

There is much difference of opinion as to the effect on the vessel. Ordnance officials hold that the force of such an unbalanced explosion will take the line of least resistance and consequently spend its volume upward and outward, while inventors claim it will seriously disable the vessel. Whatever damage is done the monitor will be quickly repaired.
